

Shrubs and Ground Covers for Bio Swales and Tough Sites

Course for Landscape Architects
Kennedy Hall, Cornell University
September 15, 2017

Instructors: Peter J. Trowbridge, Professor
Department of Landscape Architecture

Nina L. Bassuk, Professor and Program Leader,
Urban Horticulture Institute at Cornell University

Participants will learn about:

- Best Plants for Challenging Site Conditions
- Plant Selection for Specific Sites
- Site Assessment Techniques
- Key Resources for Plant Selection and Design Considerations

Tour the Cornell Campus to see successful plantings, examples of site remediation and incorporation of research results in the landscape.

Earn up to 5 LA CES Learning Units

Registration fee: $185

Schedule

9:30 a.m.	Registration Light Breakfast served	461 Kennedy Hall
10:00	Welcome, Introductions and Course Overview Resources Understanding the site Learn about the essential elements of understanding your site. Hands-on practice will be emphasized.
11:00	Utilizing Site Assessment Tools on Site
12:00	Lunch in the Minns Garden
12:30	New Plants Tour Plantings on Campus and learn about 50 shrubs
2:30	Application: Work on Project Scenarios
4:00	Adjourn

Questions? Feel free to contact Joann Gruttadaurio at jg17@cornell.edu

Course updates will be posted at <https://landscape.cals.cornell.edu/news-events>